

Position: Investment Officer (50 - 100%)
Location: Flexible – preference for Eastern or Southern Africa

Clarmondial is an independent Swiss investment advisory company, focused on mobilizing capital for sustainable natural resource management. Clarmondial is about to launch the Food Securities Fund, a blended finance fund for sustainable agricultural value chains with an initial focus on Sub Saharan Africa. The Fund will provide short term debt to companies that intermediate between producers (including smallholder farmers) and leading agribusinesses.

We are looking for an Investment Officer to join our team in mid-2020.

Key tasks

- Market scoping and origination of debt transactions
- Planning and performing transaction due diligence (desktop and on-site)
- Assessment of potential investment, and production of written investment proposals
- Support investment monitoring and reporting

Criteria

- Commitment to and interest in sustainable agriculture
- 5-10 years of relevant work experience, preferably with a financial institution, focused on credit in agriculture
- Strong network with relevant stakeholders, such as agricultural companies
- Ability to work remotely and to travel within Africa
- Proficient in verbal and written business English
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office
